

Watch for the Midweek Bargains in Thursday's Times-Dispatch.

Miller & Rhoads. Miller & Rhoads.

WEATHER FORECAST.—Tuesday fair.

New White Pique Skirts, $1.50 Each,
Worth $2.00.

Equally good values as those sold last week—7 gore flare with lap seams—properly tailored and fit to perfection.
All sizes, including skirts for stout ladies.
The extra size skirts are 25c additional.

10 Per Cent. Reduction in Price on All of Our Whitney Go-Carts.

They've always been marked close—but to clean up everything in July, we will cut 10 per cent. off the marked price.

The price tickets remain the same as they have been. $3.50 to $25.00, what you actually pay is ten per cent less—if for example a cart is marked $8.50—You'll get it for $7.65.

Miller & Rhoads

See our Ad. on Woman's Page This Evening's News Leader.

WOULD LIKE TO STRIKE BACK

Criticism of His Pet Negro Plank Worries the President.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

OYSTER BAY, July 4.—The notification of Mr. Roosevelt on July 27th will be a formal ceremony. The committee will be received at Sagamore Hill by the President and some friends. The spokesman, "Uncle Joe" Cannon, will deliver his address, and the President will reply from the piazza. His letter of acceptance is already being read to the public. He has practically completed a rough draft of it. About the only work he is doing now is in considering this important document. He is very anxious to have it right, and before he finally accepted it, he will confer with Mr. Cortelyou about it. The latter will be summoned to Oyster Bay for this purpose.

It is understood that the President, in his letter, will touch upon the negro plank in the Republican platform. This plank has aroused more criticism than anything else in the platform, and the President, it is said, feels like striking back. If there is one thing in the platform he believes in it is that plank, and if he says what he thinks, his letter will be interesting reading in the South.

To an extent, however, it is believed he will curb his inclination in this direction. The plank was not inserted without opposition, and those who did not like such a declaration are fearful lest the President make matters worse by too warm an expression. He has been advised, therefore, to pay no more attention to this plank than to any other.

Senator Fairbanks will be one of the first visitors of national importance at Sagamore Hill.

Little Child Burned.

The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford C. Paul, of No. 200 Hanover Street, was painfully burned early Sunday morning. She was playing on the front porch with a wax candle, and in lighting it, some wax fell on her face. She screamed and attracted the attention of Mr. Jack Kemmerer, who was delivering papers in the neighborhood. He ran to the porch, took off his coat and smothered the flames that were burning the child's face. She was taken to the hospital, but she suffered considerably. Last night she was reported as getting along nicely.

Summer School.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

RAIDERS, N. C., July 4.—The Agricultural and Mechanical Summer School opened this afternoon with the largest attendance on record. Over 500 arrived today, and it is expected that the attendance will reach 1,000. Last year 335 only were enrolled.

Any Lady, Anywhere, who is employed in office, store, school, factory or at home, who by her own efforts contributes in part or wholly to her own support will be eligible to compete for a TEE-DEE COUPON.

There will be fourteen parties, each consisting of two young ladies and a chaperone. The ladies are to be voted for in pairs on the same coupon, and each pair will have the privilege of appointing their own chaperone. The pair receiving the highest number of votes will be elected Party No. 1, the next highest Party No. 2, etc. Party No. 1 will have the privilege of making choice of the resort; Party No. 2 the next, and so on.

A "Consolation Prize" will be given to one party selected from those who, while failing to win one of the original fourteen prizes, have at the close of the contest not less than 100 votes.

BALLOT STATIONS

Where Tee-Dee coupons may be cast. Collections will be made weekly.

TIMES-DISPATCH OFFICE, No. 316 East Main Street.

W. F. EAMES' DRUG STORE, Twenty-fifth and Leigh Streets.

T. A. MILLER'S DRUG STORE, No. 519 East Broad Street.

PINE-STREET PHARMACY, No. 334 South Pine Street.

THOMPSON'S DRUG STORE, No. 1521 West Main Street.

RADY'S DRUG STORE, Barton Heights.

PEOPLE'S DRUG STORE, 3900 Williamsburg Avenue, Fulton.

W. J. CARTER'S DRUG STORE, Manchester.

TEE-DEE RESORTS AND PRIZES.

THE TOXAWAY (5) HOTELS.

This magnificent system, consists of the New Toxaway Inn, at Lake Toxaway, N. C.; The Franklin, at Brevard, N. C.; The Lodge, on Mount Toxaway, Sappahire, N. C.; The Fairfield Inn, on Sappahire, N. C.; The Sappahire Inn, on Lake Sappahire, Sappahire, N. C. The two parties will win the right to take a trip will be given their choice of the five hotels.

THE CHAMBERLIN HOTEL, Old Point, Va.

THE MECKLENBURG HOTEL, Chase City, Va.

THE OCEAN VIEW HOTEL, Ocean View, Va.

JEFFERSON PARK HOTEL, Charlottesville, Va.

THE PRINCESS ANNE HOTEL, Virginia Beach, Va.

MT. ELLIOT SPRINGS, Augusta County, Va.

CONSOLATION PRIZE TRIP—Old Dominion steamship to New York, day boat up the Hudson River to Albany, New York Central Railroad to Clayton, N. Y., steamer down St. Lawrence River, through Thousand Islands and Rapids or Montreal, Canada, thence by rail or boat to Abenakis Springs. Two weeks stay at Abenakis Springs. Return by New York Central Railroad via Adirondack mountains to New York to Norfolk via Old Dominion steamship, thence to Richmond, rail or by James River boat.

$500 FIRE INSURANCE POLICY, issued by VIRGINIA STATE FIRE INSURANCE CO.

$500 STANDARD ACCIDENT INSURANCE policy, issued by BRAND-ER & CO.

FREE TRANSFER OF BAGGAGE to and from depots on leaving and arrival Richmond, furnished by RICHMOND TRANSFER CO.

NOTE THIS.

When depositing 10 or more ballots, put them up in packages and mark number contained in each package on wrapper of same. Do not put more than 100 ballots in any one package.

TEE-DEE 1904
Summer Outing Tours.

This coupon is good for one vote for the young ladies named below, if deposited on or before

JULY 11th.

Miss

Miss

The Times-Dispatch

CAPTURE OF THE MURDERER

(Continued from First Page.)

he said, "for I had not had any food since Thursday night, and I was very hungry."

This tip was followed up by the police. They learned that the negro was at the house for a few minutes, and then disappeared. He was traced to Twenty-ninth and P Streets, where the trail was lost for a while. Later it was found again, and it was known by the police that the man was within the radius of half a mile of where he was found.

Pickets were placed, and a cordon was run around the territory.

Other clues were not overlooked. Sergeant Gibson went to Alexandria and Officers Werner and Pollock took the train for Newport News, from which place came a report that a negro resembling Goode, had been arrested there. Do-ness. He told of his call to the City Hospital to attend Captain Shilberger. He recognized the gravity of the case, and called in Dr. Hugh M. Taylor for consultation. The symptoms at first were favorable. The patient had no difficulty in breathing. Dr. C. B. Brock remained at the hospital all night to watch the symptoms. He observed no change during the night and the next morning Captain Shilberger was removed to the Virginia Hospital. The bullet entered between the fourth and fifth ribs and came out between the eleventh and twelfth.

Dr. Brock went on to say that in view of reports that had gone out that there was a possibility that one of the officers had shot the captain accidentally, he asked him if he was sure the negro shot him. Captain Shilberger said there was no doubt of it. "That he was within a few feet of the negro when he fired."

"I don't think he thought for a moment that any one else shot him," said Dr. Brock.

He Had No Regrets.

Dr. Hugh M. Taylor's testimony was practically the same as that given by Dr. Brock. In answer to a question by a juror, he said that it would hardly have been probable for a man forty-one feet away, and at a height of thirteen and back window. He went down to the front door and saw some men coming. Then he was arrested and held on the front porch, where he was when the shooting began. He didn't know how many shots were fired, but it "sounded like a little war."

Sergeant Gibson told his story practically as it had been printed. He was upstairs at the door connecting the two rooms when he saw Goode. He called to him to come to him, but instead he jumped out the window to the yard below. A shot was fired at him as he went out the window. Detective Gibson then ran to the window and fired at the negro again in the yard. Then he ran down again in the yard. He went in pursuit of the fleeing negro. He did not know Captain Shilberger was shot until an hour afterward.

Important Statement.

Commonwealth's Attorney Richardson then deposed. He had an interview with Goode Sunday in which he confessed that he killed Richard Fox and that he was the man in the house at the time the raid was made. He denied, however, that he shot Captain Shilberger or had even fired when he ran away. He was not shot himself, but was lame from what seemed to be a sprain.

On the morning after the shooting witness went to the house with Sergeant

THE THREE OFFICERS WHO ARRESTED GOODE.

POLICEMAN GEARY.

POLICEMAN WILEY.

COUNTY OFFICER MILLS.

ective Hall was up the James River branch.

Longed for Daylight.

Little could be done during the night. All hands longed for daylight, for they felt that it would come the capture of the negro fugitive. Early, before the sun came up from behind the eastern hills, the officers were alert. And as the sun crept up, the cordon gradually closed in on the man. No one knew the exact spot. It was a question of chance as to which of the men would be in at the capture.

one-half feet, to have inflicted such a wound.

"Captain Shilberger said," remarked Dr. Taylor, "that he was in the distance of his duty when he was shot, and he had no regrets. He hoped the negro would be caught."

Dr. C. B. Brock concurred in the statements of the other physicians.

Coroner Taylor deposed that he had held an inquest on Richard Fox, who was killed on Saturday night, June 25th, by James Goode.

Lavinia Nichols, the negro woman at whose house the shooting took place, said she knew nothing about the killing of Richard Fox, except what she read in the papers. Goode had said nothing to her about it. She knew Goode only slightly.

James Johnson, colored, who was at the house on June 25th, said Goode came

Gibson. They examined the premises closely with the exception of the front and rear rooms, and he was satisfied that it was impossible from Sergeant Gibson's statement of the position that Captain Shilberger could have been shot by him (Gibson) by accident. They went again yesterday and went in the room. Captain Gibson placed himself in the exact position he was in when he fired the first shot. This shot would have gone fifteen feet from Captain Shilberger's position. From the position in which he was standing looking through the window, the line of vision was over the northern corner of the fence. Captain Shilberger was at the southern corner. The bullet fired at this time was found on the left side of the window, five feet ten inches from the floor and four inches from the corner.

There was not a man in the hunt that did not want to have a hand in taking the fugitive.

Officers J. F. Wiley and James S. Gary started out together. They were hot on the trail, and from Thirty-first and Q Streets, they went on out into the fields and underbrush, where they had every reason to believe the man was in hiding. On their way out they went to the home of County Officer U. D. Mills, and invited him to accompany them. He accepted the invitation, and the trio proceeded. They went through Fairmount to Woodville, and went into Sietzbach's place, where a close search was made in the underbrush and the ditches.

"We were sure the man was somewhere near," said Wiley yesterday, "and we proceeded cautiously. Mills was slightly in advance when we reached the ditch, about three feet deep, pretty well filled with blackberry bushes and briars. This was close to the fence between Bruner's and Redwood's."

"We were sure the man was somewhere near," said Wiley yesterday, "and we proceeded cautiously. Mills was slightly in advance when we reached the ditch, about three feet deep, pretty well filled with blackberry bushes and briars. This was close to the fence between Bruner's and Redwood's."

James Johnson, colored, who was at the house on June 25th, said Goode came

Gibson. They examined the premises closely with the exception of the front and rear rooms, and he was satisfied that it was impossible from Sergeant Gibson's statement of the position that Captain Shilberger could have been shot by him (Gibson) by accident. They went again yesterday and went in the room. Captain Gibson placed himself in the exact position he was in when he fired the first shot. This shot would have gone fifteen feet from Captain Shilberger's position. From the position in which he was standing looking through the window, the line of vision was over the northern corner of the fence. Captain Shilberger was at the southern corner. The bullet fired at this time was found on the left side of the window, five feet ten inches from the floor and four inches from the corner.

"We were sure the man was somewhere near," said Wiley yesterday, "and we proceeded cautiously. Mills was slightly in advance when we reached the ditch, about three feet deep, pretty well filled with blackberry bushes and briars. This was close to the fence between Bruner's and Redwood's."

James Johnson, colored, who was at the house on June 25th, said Goode came

Gibson. They examined the premises closely with the exception of the front and rear rooms, and he was satisfied that it was impossible from Sergeant Gibson's statement of the position that Captain Shilberger could have been shot by him (Gibson) by accident. They went again yesterday and went in the room. Captain Gibson placed himself in the exact position he was in when he fired the first shot. This shot would have gone fifteen feet from Captain Shilberger's position. From the position in which he was standing looking through the window, the line of vision was over the northern corner of the fence. Captain Shilberger was at the southern corner. The bullet fired at this time was found on the left side of the window, five feet ten inches from the floor and four inches from the corner.

"We were sure the man was somewhere near," said Wiley yesterday, "and we proceeded cautiously. Mills was slightly in advance when we reached the ditch, about three feet deep, pretty well filled with blackberry bushes and briars. This was close to the fence between Bruner's and Redwood's."

James Johnson, colored, who was at the house on June 25th, said Goode came

Gibson. They examined the premises closely with the exception of the front and rear rooms, and he was satisfied that it was impossible from Sergeant Gibson's statement of the position that Captain Shilberger could have been shot by him (Gibson) by accident. They went again yesterday and went in the room. Captain Gibson placed himself in the exact position he was in when he fired the first shot. This shot would have gone fifteen feet from Captain Shilberger's position. From the position in which he was standing looking through the window, the line of vision was over the northern corner of the fence. Captain Shilberger was at the southern corner. The bullet fired at this time was found on the left side of the window, five feet ten inches from the floor and four inches from the corner.

"We were sure the man was somewhere near," said Wiley yesterday, "and we proceeded cautiously. Mills was slightly in advance when we reached the ditch, about three feet deep, pretty well filled with blackberry bushes and briars. This was close to the fence between Bruner's and Redwood's."

James Johnson, colored, who was at the house on June 25th, said Goode came

Gibson. They examined the premises closely with the exception of the front and rear rooms, and he was satisfied that it was impossible from Sergeant Gibson's statement of the position that Captain Shilberger could have been shot by him (Gibson) by accident. They went again yesterday and went in the room. Captain Gibson placed himself in the exact position he was in when he fired the first shot. This shot would have gone fifteen feet from Captain Shilberger's position. From the position in which he was standing looking through the window, the line of vision was over the northern corner of the fence. Captain Shilberger was at the southern corner. The bullet fired at this time was found on the left side of the window, five feet ten inches from the floor and four inches from the corner.

"We were sure the man was somewhere near," said Wiley yesterday, "and we proceeded cautiously. Mills was slightly in advance when we reached the ditch, about three feet deep, pretty well filled with blackberry bushes and briars. This was close to the fence between Bruner's and Redwood's."

James Johnson, colored, who was at the house on June 25th, said Goode came

Gibson. They examined the premises closely with the exception of the front and rear rooms, and he was satisfied that it was impossible from Sergeant Gibson's statement of the position that Captain Shilberger could have been shot by him (Gibson) by accident. They went again yesterday and went in the room. Captain Gibson placed himself in the exact position he was in when he fired the first shot. This shot would have gone fifteen feet from Captain Shilberger's position. From the position in which he was standing looking through the window, the line of vision was over the northern corner of the fence. Captain Shilberger was at the southern corner. The bullet fired at this time was found on the left side of the window, five feet ten inches from the floor and four inches from the corner.

"We were sure the man was somewhere near," said Wiley yesterday, "and we proceeded cautiously. Mills was slightly in advance when we reached the ditch, about three feet deep, pretty well filled with blackberry bushes and briars. This was close to the fence between Bruner's and Redwood's."

James Johnson, colored, who was at the house on June 25th, said Goode came

Gibson. They examined the premises closely with the exception of the front and rear rooms, and he was satisfied that it was impossible from Sergeant Gibson's statement of the position that Captain Shilberger could have been shot by him (Gibson) by accident. They went again yesterday and went in the room. Captain Gibson placed himself in the exact position he was in when he fired the first shot. This shot would have gone fifteen feet from Captain Shilberger's position. From the position in which he was standing looking through the window, the line of vision was over the northern corner of the fence. Captain Shilberger was at the southern corner. The bullet fired at this time was found on the left side of the window, five feet ten inches from the floor and four inches from the corner.

"We were sure the man was somewhere near," said Wiley yesterday, "and we proceeded cautiously. Mills was slightly in advance when we reached the ditch, about three feet deep, pretty well filled with blackberry bushes and briars. This was close to the fence between Bruner's and Redwood's."

James Johnson, colored, who was at the house on June 25th, said Goode came

Gibson. They examined the premises closely with the exception of the front and rear rooms, and he was satisfied that it was impossible from Sergeant Gibson's statement of the position that Captain Shilberger could have been shot by him (Gibson) by accident. They went again yesterday and went in the room. Captain Gibson placed himself in the exact position he was in when he fired the first shot. This shot would have gone fifteen feet from Captain Shilberger's position. From the position in which he was standing looking through the window, the line of vision was over the northern corner of the fence. Captain Shilberger was at the southern corner. The bullet fired at this time was found on the left side of the window, five feet ten inches from the floor and four inches from the corner.

"We were sure the man was somewhere near," said Wiley yesterday, "and we proceeded cautiously. Mills was slightly in advance when we reached the ditch, about three feet deep, pretty well filled with blackberry bushes and briars. This was close to the fence between Bruner's and Redwood's."

James Johnson, colored, who was at the house on June 25th, said Goode came

Gibson. They examined the premises closely with the exception of the front and rear rooms, and he was satisfied that it was impossible from Sergeant Gibson's statement of the position that Captain Shilberger could have been shot by him (Gibson) by accident. They went again yesterday and went in the room. Captain Gibson placed himself in the exact position he was in when he fired the first shot. This shot would have gone fifteen feet from Captain Shilberger's position. From the position in which he was standing looking through the window, the line of vision was over the northern corner of the fence. Captain Shilberger was at the southern corner. The bullet fired at this time was found on the left side of the window, five feet ten inches from the floor and four inches from the corner.

"We were sure the man was somewhere near," said Wiley yesterday, "and we proceeded cautiously. Mills was slightly in advance when we reached the ditch, about three feet deep, pretty well filled with blackberry bushes and briars. This was close to the fence between Bruner's and Redwood's."

James Johnson, colored, who was at the house on June 25th, said Goode came

Gibson. They examined the premises closely with the exception of the front and rear rooms, and he was satisfied that it was impossible from Sergeant Gibson's statement of the position that Captain Shilberger could have been shot by him (Gibson) by accident. They went again yesterday and went in the room. Captain Gibson placed himself in the exact position he was in when he fired the first shot. This shot would have gone fifteen feet from Captain Shilberger's position. From the position in which he was standing looking through the window, the line of vision was over the northern corner of the fence. Captain Shilberger was at the southern corner. The bullet fired at this time was found on the left side of the window, five feet ten inches from the floor and four inches from the corner.

"We were sure the man was somewhere near," said Wiley yesterday, "and we proceeded cautiously. Mills was slightly in advance when we reached the ditch, about three feet deep, pretty well filled with blackberry bushes and briars. This was close to the fence between Bruner's and Redwood's."

James Johnson, colored, who was at the house on June 25th, said Goode came

Gibson. They examined the premises closely with the exception of the front and rear rooms, and he was satisfied that it was impossible from Sergeant Gibson's statement of the position that Captain Shilberger could have been shot by him (Gibson) by accident. They went again yesterday and went in the room. Captain Gibson placed himself in the exact position he was in when he fired the first shot. This shot would have gone fifteen feet from Captain Shilberger's position. From the position in which he was standing looking through the window, the line of vision was over the northern corner of the fence. Captain Shilberger was at the southern corner. The bullet fired at this time was found on the left side of the window, five feet ten inches from the floor and four inches from the corner.

"We were sure the man was somewhere near," said Wiley yesterday, "and we proceeded cautiously. Mills was slightly in advance when we reached the ditch, about three feet deep, pretty well filled with blackberry bushes and briars. This was close to the fence between Bruner's and Redwood's."

James Johnson, colored, who was at the house on June 25th, said Goode came

Gibson. They examined the premises closely with the exception of the front and rear rooms, and he was satisfied that it was impossible from Sergeant Gibson's statement of the position that Captain Shilberger could have been shot by him (Gibson) by accident. They went again yesterday and went in the room. Captain Gibson placed himself in the exact position he was in when he fired the first shot. This shot would have gone fifteen feet from Captain Shilberger's position. From the position in which he was standing looking through the window, the line of vision was over the northern corner of the fence. Captain Shilberger was at the southern corner. The bullet fired at this time was found on the left side of the window, five feet ten inches from the floor and four inches from the corner.

"We were sure the man was somewhere near," said Wiley yesterday, "and we proceeded cautiously. Mills was slightly in advance when we reached the ditch, about three feet deep, pretty well filled with blackberry bushes and briars. This was close to the fence between Bruner's and Redwood's."

James Johnson, colored, who was at the house on June 25th, said Goode came

Gibson. They examined the premises closely with the exception of the front and rear rooms, and he was satisfied that it was impossible from Sergeant Gibson's statement of the position that Captain Shilberger could have been shot by him (Gibson) by accident. They went again yesterday and went in the room. Captain Gibson placed himself in the exact position he was in when he fired the first shot. This shot would have gone fifteen feet from Captain Shilberger's position. From the position in which he was standing looking through the window, the line of vision was over the northern corner of the fence. Captain Shilberger was at the southern corner. The bullet fired at this time was found on the left side of the window, five feet ten inches from the floor and four inches from the corner.

"We were sure the man was somewhere near," said Wiley yesterday, "and we proceeded cautiously. Mills was slightly in advance when we reached the ditch, about three feet deep, pretty well filled with blackberry bushes and briars. This was close to the fence between Bruner's and Redwood's."

James Johnson, colored, who was at the house on June 25th, said Goode came

Gibson. They examined the premises closely with the exception of the front and rear rooms, and he was satisfied that it was impossible from Sergeant Gibson's statement of the position that Captain Shilberger could have been shot by him (Gibson) by accident. They went again yesterday and went in the room. Captain Gibson placed himself in the exact position he was in when he fired the first shot. This shot would have gone fifteen feet from Captain Shilberger's position. From the position in which he was standing looking through the window, the line of vision was over the northern corner of the fence. Captain Shilberger was at the southern corner. The bullet fired at this time was found on the left side of the window, five feet ten inches from the floor and four inches from the corner.

"We were sure the man was somewhere near," said Wiley yesterday, "and we proceeded cautiously. Mills was slightly in advance when we reached the ditch, about three feet deep, pretty well filled with blackberry bushes and briars. This was close to the fence between Bruner's and Redwood's."

James Johnson, colored, who was at the house on June 25th, said Goode came

Gibson. They examined the premises closely with the exception of the front and rear rooms, and he was satisfied that it was impossible from Sergeant Gibson's statement of the position that Captain Shilberger could have been shot by him (Gibson) by accident. They went again yesterday and went in the room. Captain Gibson placed himself in the exact position he was in when he fired the first shot. This shot would have gone fifteen feet from Captain Shilberger's position. From the position in which he was standing looking through the window, the line of vision was over the northern corner of the fence. Captain Shilberger was at the southern corner. The bullet fired at this time was found on the left side of the window, five feet ten inches from the floor and four inches from the corner.

"We were sure the man was somewhere near," said Wiley yesterday, "and we proceeded cautiously. Mills was slightly in advance when we reached the ditch, about three feet deep, pretty well filled with blackberry bushes and briars. This was close to the fence between Bruner's and Redwood's."

James Johnson, colored, who was at the house on June 25th, said Goode came

Gibson. They examined the premises closely with the exception of the front and rear rooms, and he was satisfied that it was impossible from Sergeant Gibson's statement of the position that Captain Shilberger could have been shot by him (Gibson) by accident. They went again yesterday and went in the room. Captain Gibson placed himself in the exact position he was in when he fired the first shot. This shot would have gone fifteen feet from Captain Shilberger's position. From the position in which he was standing looking through the window, the line of vision was over the northern corner of the fence. Captain Shilberger was at the southern corner. The bullet fired at this time was found on the left side of the window, five feet ten inches from the floor and four inches from the corner.

"We were sure the man was somewhere near," said Wiley yesterday, "and we proceeded cautiously. Mills was slightly in advance when we reached the ditch, about three feet deep, pretty well filled with blackberry bushes and briars. This was close to the fence between Bruner's and Redwood's."

James Johnson, colored, who was at the house on June 25th, said Goode came

Gibson. They examined the premises closely with the exception of the front and rear rooms, and he was satisfied that it was impossible from Sergeant Gibson's statement of the position that Captain Shilberger could have been shot by him (Gibson) by accident. They went again yesterday and went in the room. Captain Gibson placed himself in the exact position he was in when he fired the first shot. This shot would have gone fifteen feet from Captain Shilberger's position. From the position in which he was standing looking through the window, the line of vision was over the northern corner of the fence. Captain Shilberger was at the southern corner. The bullet fired at this time was found on the left side of the window, five feet ten inches from the floor and four inches from the corner.

"We were sure the man was somewhere near," said Wiley yesterday, "and we proceeded cautiously. Mills was slightly in advance when we reached the ditch, about three feet deep, pretty well filled with blackberry bushes and briars. This was close to the fence between Bruner's and Redwood's."

James Johnson, colored, who was at the house on June 25th, said Goode came

Gibson. They examined the premises closely with the exception of the front and rear rooms, and he was satisfied that it was impossible from Sergeant Gibson's statement of the position that Captain Shilberger could have been shot by him (Gibson) by accident. They went again yesterday and went in the room. Captain Gibson placed himself in the exact position he was in when he fired the first shot. This shot would have gone fifteen feet from Captain Shilberger's position. From the position in which he was standing looking through the window, the line of vision was over the northern corner of the fence. Captain Shilberger was at the southern corner. The bullet fired at this time was found on the left side of the window, five feet ten inches from the floor and four inches from the corner.

"We were sure the man was somewhere near," said Wiley yesterday, "and we proceeded cautiously. Mills was slightly in advance when we reached the ditch, about three feet deep, pretty well filled with blackberry bushes and briars. This was close to the fence between Bruner's and Redwood's."

James Johnson, colored, who was at the house on June 25th, said Goode came

Gibson. They examined the premises closely with the exception of the front and rear rooms, and he was satisfied that it was impossible from Sergeant Gibson's statement of the position that Captain Shilberger could have been shot by him (Gibson) by accident. They went again yesterday and went in the room. Captain Gibson placed himself in the exact position he was in when he fired the first shot. This shot would have gone fifteen feet from Captain Shilberger's position. From the position in which he was standing looking through the window, the line of vision was over the northern corner of the fence. Captain Shilberger was at the southern corner. The bullet fired at this time was found on the left side of the window, five feet ten inches from the floor and four inches from the corner.

"We were sure the man was somewhere near," said Wiley yesterday, "and we proceeded cautiously. Mills was slightly in advance when we reached the ditch, about three feet deep, pretty well filled with blackberry bushes and briars. This was close to the fence between Bruner's and Redwood's."

James Johnson, colored, who was at the house on June 25th, said Goode came

Gibson. They examined the premises closely with the exception of the front and rear rooms, and he was satisfied that it was impossible from Sergeant Gibson's statement of the position that Captain Shilberger could have been shot by him (Gibson) by accident. They went again yesterday and went in the room. Captain Gibson placed himself in the exact position he was in when he fired the first shot. This shot would have gone fifteen feet from Captain Shilberger's position. From the position in which he was standing looking through the window, the line of vision was over the northern corner of the fence. Captain Shilberger was at the southern corner. The bullet fired at this time was found on the left side of the window, five feet ten inches from the floor and four inches from the corner.

"We were sure the man was somewhere near," said Wiley yesterday, "and we proceeded cautiously. Mills was slightly in advance when we reached the ditch, about three feet deep, pretty well filled with blackberry bushes and briars. This was close to the fence between Bruner's and Redwood's."

James Johnson, colored, who was at the house on June 25th, said Goode came

Gibson. They examined the premises closely with the exception of the front and rear rooms, and he was satisfied that it was impossible from Sergeant Gibson's statement of the position that Captain Shilberger could have been shot by him (Gibson) by accident. They went again yesterday and went in the room. Captain Gibson placed himself in the exact position he was in when he fired the first shot. This shot would have gone fifteen feet from Captain Shilberger's position. From the position in which he was standing looking through the window, the line of vision was over the northern corner of the fence. Captain Shilberger was at the southern corner. The bullet fired at this time was found on the left side of the window, five feet ten inches from the floor and four inches from the corner.

"We were sure the man was somewhere near," said Wiley yesterday, "and we proceeded cautiously. Mills was slightly in advance when we reached the ditch, about three feet deep, pretty well filled with blackberry bushes and briars. This was close to the fence between Bruner's and Redwood's."

James Johnson, colored, who was at the house on June 25th, said Goode came

Gibson. They examined the premises closely with the exception of the front and rear rooms, and he was satisfied that it was impossible from Sergeant Gibson's statement of the position that Captain Shilberger could have been shot by him (Gibson) by accident. They went again yesterday and went in the room. Captain Gibson placed himself in the exact position he was in when he fired the first shot. This shot would have gone fifteen feet from Captain Shilberger's position. From the position in which he was standing looking through the window, the line of vision was over the northern corner of the fence. Captain Shilberger was at the southern corner. The bullet fired at this time was found on the left side of the window, five feet ten inches from the floor and four inches from the corner.

"We were sure the man was somewhere near," said Wiley yesterday, "and we proceeded cautiously. Mills was slightly in advance when we reached the ditch, about three feet deep, pretty well filled with blackberry bushes and briars. This was close to the fence between Bruner's and Redwood's."

James Johnson, colored, who was at the house on June 25th, said Goode came

Gibson. They examined the premises closely with the exception of the front and rear rooms, and he was satisfied that it was impossible from Sergeant Gibson's statement of the position that Captain Shilberger could have been shot by him (Gibson) by accident. They went again yesterday and went in the room. Captain Gibson placed himself in the exact position he was in when he fired the first shot. This shot would have gone fifteen feet from Captain Shilberger's position. From the position in which he was standing looking through the window, the line of vision was over the northern corner of the fence. Captain Shilberger was at the southern corner. The bullet fired at this time was found on the left side of the window, five feet ten inches from the floor and four inches from the corner.

The Biggest Money-Saving Event of the season is our Special Sale of Men's Suits, that sold for $15.00 and $16.50, at only

$9.90

We have also included Broken Lots of Suits, that sold for $18.00 and $20.00.

BURK & CO.

witnesses who testified.

They told of their search for the negro. How they had been informed that he was in the vicinity of Thirty-first and Q Streets, on Saturday night. They traced his movements, which carried them through Fairmount out into the country. They went past the house of County Officer Mills and asked him to go with them. The story of his capture is told above.

Officer Mills's Work.

County Officer Mills was seen last night. He said that if Policemen Wiley and Gary had come to his house when they did, or had been five minutes later, the capture of the man would have been made by county folks.

"I got the tip the night before," he said, "from a colored boy. The negro was again and heard making inquiries for the Seven Plank road with a friend. The negro had been given a drink of wine from two places. He went to Curd's Drug Store and 'phoned for the police, but there were none at the station. He then went to the car sheds and told them about the clue. The negro about that time went to Thomas's house, and the fugitive had been seen there. Sunday morning when Gary and Wiley came to my house I was getting ready to go on the hunt."

Goode Talks.

When the negro was captured he said he didn't know Captain Shilberger was dead.